Ivory Homes has been selected as the exclusive builder for all new homes valued at under $1 million dollars in the new Red Ledges community located in Heber Valley, Utah. The community which is already selling new homes has just received recognition for having the "Best Golf Course in Utah" by the Best of State Award.

Salt Lake City, Utah (PRWEB) May 14 – Ivory Homes has been selected as the exclusive builder for homes valued at under $1 million in the new Red Ledges community located in Wasatch County in Heber Valley, Utah.

(<http://www.IvoryHomes.com>) The Red Ledges community is planned to contain over 1,200 homes spread across 2,000 acres of property. It will include 15 miles of private trails and numerous amenities including the already completed award winning Jack Nicklaus designed 18-hole golf course. Additional future planned amenities include a Jack Nicklaus Designed nine-hole short golf course, a Jim McLean Golf School, a Cliff Drysdale Tennis Academy, a premier spa and fitness center, and an equestrian center with indoor and outdoor facilities.

The Red Ledges <http://www.RedLedges.com> 18-hole golf course was designed by Jack Nicklaus, one of golf's preeminent course designers and the man Golf Inc. Magazine has named "Most Powerful Person in Golf" for five straight years. The 7,653-yard golf course has just been awarded the "Best Golf Course in Utah" by the Best of State Award. "We are honored to have received this recognition from Utah's premier recognition and awards program," said Todd Cates, Red Ledges vice president and project manager. "With our second golf season just open, it is very rewarding to be recognized for the work we've put into the course and its design. Red Ledges continues to receive the highest marks both locally, from this outstanding organization, and nationally."

Ivory Homes, the largest quality home builder in Utah, has been selected by the community development team at Red Ledges to build all single family homes and twin villa homes that are valued under $1 million. Jon Lefrandt, the Red Ledges Project Manager for Ivory Homes says, "We are excited to be selected as the builder for this project. With our reputation for quality construction and our focus on superior customer service, we offer new home buyers in Red Ledges excellent value for their money. They will get a quality-built home, and have money left over to purchase a variety of luxury customization features." Ivory home will be building new homes immediately in the Alpine Villas and Pinpanotos neighborhoods which surround the Red Ledges Village Center. Ivory Homes has already started construction on their high-end luxury model and is planned to build five homes for quick delivery. New homes in Red Ledges are currently being sold by the Red Ledges sales team in Heber Valley and by over 65 Ivory Homes sales representatives throughout the state of Utah.

Ivory Homes has selected three twin villa floor plans and two single family floor plans for the Red Ledges community. Each home will be built to the highest standards with many custom touches standard fare for this special luxury home community. All homes built by Ivory Homes in Red Ledges will meet the community's strict architectural and landscape review standards. The homes will include high value luxury packages created just for Red Ledges, such as Viking and Sub Zero appliances, granite countertops in the kitchen and bath areas, and a full deck with views of the nearby Rocky Mountains or views of the world-class Red Ledges golf course. New home buyers will be able to select built-in bar-b-ques, deluxe lighting fixture packages, and audio/home entertainment features.
